Job Description: Chief Compliance Officer

Compliance function · Executive · Principal Officer

Designation	Chief Compliance Officer (CCO)
Department	Compliance
Reporting To	General Manager (administrative) Direct and unrestricted access to the Board on any regulatory or suspicion matter
Direct Reports	Compliance Head, and through that role the Heads of Internal and External Compliance and their officers
Statutory Role	Principal Officer under the Prevention of Money Laundering framework
Grade Level	Executive
Working Hours	8.5 hours
Compensation Structure	Fixed only. This role carries no volume-linked or revenue-linked incentive, by design
Location	Blynk Virtual Technologies Pvt. Ltd., 1st Floor Balwant Arcade, MP Nagar Zone-2, Bhopal

Position of the role. The Chief Compliance Officer sets and holds the Company's compliance framework; the Compliance Head runs it. Determinations of this role on suspicion, statutory reporting, onboarding refusal and account exit are final within the Company and cannot be overruled by the General Manager or by any business function. Where the business disagrees, the route is to the Board. The compensation of this role carries no variable component tied to volume or revenue.

Role Purpose

The Chief Compliance Officer is the Company's senior compliance authority and its Principal Officer. The role owns the policy framework, the risk model, the statutory reporting obligations and the Company's standing with its regulators, and is the person who can stop business when the law requires it.

Division of Responsibility with the Compliance Head

Chief Compliance Officer	Compliance Head
Sets policy, thresholds, monitoring parameters and the risk framework	Applies them and runs the function day to day
Determines suspicion and makes statutory filings as Principal Officer	Refers matters upward that may amount to suspicion
Owens regulatory registration, correspondence and inspections	Executes internal and external compliance delivery across three shifts
Approves the training and internal testing programme	Delivers training, testing and remediation

Key Accountabilities

1. Principal Officer Obligations

- Evaluate matters referred by the Compliance Head, determine suspicion, and file the prescribed reports with the Financial Intelligence Unit within statutory timelines.
- Record every determination, including determinations not to report, with the reasoning recorded at the time.
- Maintain record retention in the prescribed form and for the prescribed period.
- Ensure no person inside the Company is informed that a report has been or may be made, other than as the framework permits.
- Maintain the Company's registration and standing with the relevant authority, and manage regulatory correspondence, inspections and information requests.

2. Framework Ownership

- Own and approve the AML and CFT policy, the KYC policy, the customer risk categorisation framework and the enhanced due diligence procedure.
- Set the monitoring parameters, thresholds and scenarios, and the value threshold below which a KYC Associate may clear a standard-risk file independently.
- Approve the periodic review and ReKYC calendar and the sanctions and adverse media screening process.
- Review the framework at least annually and on any material change in the business, product, platform or counterparty base.

3. Independence and Board Reporting

- Refuse onboarding, freeze an account or exit a client where the framework requires it, without seeking business approval.
- Report to the Board any instance of a business function seeking to override, delay or work around a compliance decision, or to withhold an observation.
- Advise the Board and the General Manager on the compliance implications of any new product, platform, counterparty or channel before launch.
- Deliver the compliance position to the Board on a fixed schedule: determinations, filings, external exposure, testing findings and training coverage.
- Ensure every employee has a route to report a suspicion that cannot be closed by their line manager.

4. Assurance and Oversight of the Function

- Hold the Compliance Head accountable for consistent decisions across shifts and for the quality of the function's work.
- Approve the internal compliance testing programme and require findings to be closed on evidence with dated corrective action.
- Monitor alert volumes, referral rates and clearance patterns for signs that the function is under commercial pressure or under-reporting.
- Instruct external counsel on regulatory matters and record the advice against the position it supports.

Authority and Limits

- Decides finally within the Company: suspicion determinations; statutory filings and their content and timing; onboarding refusal, account freeze and exit on compliance grounds; policy, thresholds and monitoring parameters.
- Requires Board approval: engagement of external counsel; any settlement or payment to resolve a regulatory matter; any admission of liability; any change to the Company's registration status.
- Escalates to the Board directly: any determination of suspicion; any regulatory notice or inspection; any pressure within the Company to override a compliance decision; any matter touching the personal liability of a director or officer.
- Holds no authority over commercial pricing, order release or payment release, and takes no operational target.

Key Performance Indicators

Measure	Standard
Statutory reports filed within prescribed timelines	100%
Determinations recorded with reasoning at the time	100%
Framework reviewed on schedule and on material change	100%
Internal testing findings closed by agreed date	Above ____%
Regulatory correspondence answered within stated timeline	100%
Instances of a compliance decision being overridden	Zero

This role is assessed on compliance outcomes only. No measure is linked to business volume, revenue, onboarding throughput or clearance rate, and none may be introduced.

Qualifications and Experience

Essential

- Bachelor's degree; a law, finance or management postgraduate qualification preferred.
- Ten years or more in AML and KYC compliance at a bank, non-banking financial company, payment institution or regulated exchange, including at least five leading a compliance function.
- Command of the money laundering prevention framework, reporting obligations and KYC master direction principles.
- Demonstrated independence: has declined business on compliance grounds and can describe the circumstances and the outcome.
- Precise written English suitable for regulatory correspondence, filings and Board papers.

Preferred

- Virtual digital asset or reporting-entity experience.
- CAMS or equivalent certification.
- Experience of a regulatory inspection or enforcement matter from the compliance side.
- Experience appearing before or corresponding with a regulator on the Company's behalf.

Notes for HR and Management

The Principal Officer designation has moved to this role. It previously sat with the Compliance Head. With a Chief Compliance Officer in place, the Principal Officer should be the senior compliance authority, because the designation carries personal statutory responsibility and must sit with the person who determines suspicion rather than with the person who runs the function. Confirm the change against the Company's filed particulars, and confirm a Designated Director is recorded. The latter is a Board appointment and cannot be held by this role.

The internal compliance chain is now six layers deep: Chief Compliance Officer, Compliance Head, Head Internal Compliance, Internal Compliance Officer, KYC Executive, KYC Associate. Each layer is a place a referral can slow down. Two features limit that: every intermediate description carries an express obligation to route upward without filtering, and the Head Internal Compliance refers suspicion to this role directly, informing the Compliance Head at the same time. Measure both rather than assuming them.

This Job Description defines the scope of the role and does not constitute the whole of the terms of employment. It is to be read with the appointment letter, the Attendance Policy, the Code of Conduct and the policies of the Company in force from time to time. The Company reserves the right to revise this description with notice to the employee.

Acknowledgement

I have read and understood this Job Description and accept the accountabilities and statutory obligations set out in it, including those attaching to the Principal Officer designation.
